MSc Description: This unique 120 ECTS master degree programme incorporates the exclusive CEMS Master in International Management program. CEMS assure a truly international exposure with a compulsory study abroad semester at one of the 34 top-ranked CEMS schools worldwide. By admission to the Corvinus MSc Management and Leadership programme, you will also automatically be enrolled on the CEMS programme, therefore receiving two degrees by graduation.

The management and leadership programme is an all-encompassing business studies Master. The programme links management areas – strategy, processes, technology – with leadership aspects such as innovation, organisational culture, and motivation.

You will learn how to design new business models, agile organisations, or future-proof human resource (HR) processes in a digitalized world, and also how to implement them by leading people. You will also develop your soft skills – such as critical thinking, creativity, collaboration and communication.

This programme is the ideal next step for recent graduates with business-related degrees. A strong academic background in business-related studies is required for this programme.

Entry requirements to MSc program: Min. 945 points on the final TOEIC exam
Passing the entrance exams (written and oral)
BSc/BA diploma from a relevant field
