BSc Description: This is an all-round business programme, accredited by EFMD - assuring the highest quality learning experience for you. Because business is highly practical, you will hone and develop the skills to succeed in any kind of organisation – multi national (MNC), public sector or start-up!

You will gain a strong foundation in academic methodology, blended with economics, marketing, finance, sustainability. This gives you endless career possibilities. Within three years of graduating, you could be a marketing manager, a senior finance executive, a strategic advisor or an HR business partner.

There are added benefits of studying this programme in Budapest, a highly international city and the leading business hub of Central Eastern Europe. There are plenty of multi national companies looking to recruit talented, English speaking graduates. You have a unique opportunity to build your network and to kickstart your career.

Corvinus places a strong emphasis on developing your soft skills and transferrable skills – highly sought by employers. Through their class discussions, group and project work and case studies you will hone these skills. This programme includes a compulsory internship semester, which can be done abroad.
